Competences: What They Mean to Your Classroom

In light of the recent ministerial guidelines, this practical seminar will address the following key questions: What are competences? An in-depth look at the 8 key competences and how they compare to the profile delle competenze that we will be asked to assess. What do the ministerial guidelines mean for English teachers?

Seminar with Mark Thompson, Educational Consultant, Pearson

19 gennaio - ore 16.30 - 18.30

ITS "G. Quarenghi", Via Europa 27 Bergamo

Integrating Life Skills in Secondary Schools

We are living in times of unprecedented change, complexity and competition. Advances in technology, globalisation and changes in economics and social dynamics are presenting us all with challenges never experienced before. So what will give students the advantage to thrive in the future? The answer is Life Skills.

Seminar with Christopher Morley, Educational Consultant, Oxford University Press

16 febbraio - ore 16.30 - 18.30

ITS "G. Quarenghi", Via Europa 27 Bergamo

Developing lexical range and accuracy for B2 and C1 Certification

A significant proportion of total marks for Cambridge FCE/CAE and IELTS speaking and writing papers depends on a candidate's ability to demonstrate a wide range of vocabulary appropriate to the desired level. This seminar will present some of the ways teachers can help students develop their knowledge and use of vocabulary in order to perform to their maximum potential in the exam.

Seminar with Margaret Fowler, Examinations Manager and Deputy Director, British Council Milan

Reading: Motivation, Inclusion and Competences

Reading may be a receptive skill, but as Scott Thornbury points out "the fact that it is receptive does not mean that it is passive: reading is an active, even interactive, process". This seminar looks at how we teach reading from three different perspectives: how we can use pre-reading tasks to motivate students; How we can use reading to promote an inclusive classroom environment; How we can encourage our students to develop their competences through post-reading activities and research.

Seminar with Mark Thompson, Educational Consultant, Pearson

Vocabulary and Pronunciation in Action

An investigation into the role of vocabulary and pronunciation in language learning and communication, on its importance and challenges! How to best teach and learn vocabulary at different levels using a variety of learning styles. We will also look at how to teach students the difference between key sounds in English, different stress types and patterns.

Seminar with Marcus Tubby, Educational Consultant, Cambridge University Press

23 marzo - ore 16.30 - 18.30

ITS "G. Quarenghi", Via Europa 27 Bergamo

Aprender una segunda lengua mediante vídeos

Los vídeos pueden ser una herramienta excelente para motivar a los estudiantes más jóvenes, ya que, como bien sabemos, la mayoría de ellos están acostumbrados a aprender a través de las imágenes. De cualquier manera, el uso de vídeos puede incluir diferentes estilos de aprendizaje sin limitarse exclusivamente al visual. En el taller se explicará por qué y cómo.

Seminario con G. Claudia Macedo Abregú, examinadora DELE, asesora Pedagógica de Edinumen Madrid - Rizzoli Languages Italia

6 aprile - ore 16.30 - 18.30

ITS "G. Quarenghi", Via Europa 27 Bergamo

Challenging Students

Sometimes a class full of language learners is a bit like The Little Shop Of Horrors: you give your students (plants) everything normal and yet your students still do not comprehend (grow). Something different is needed; perhaps a flash of inspiration. This talk will discuss different ways of assisting your students to be enlightened. Topics such as managing different learning styles and abilities as well as pronunciation will be discussed.

Seminar with Tracey Sinclair, Area Manager Eli Edizioni and teacher trainer

20 aprile - ore 16.30 - 18.30

ITS "G. Quarenghi", Via Europa 27 Bergamo
