The plot thickens! Making stories out of stories

One of the most fascinating stories about King Arthur's knights is "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight", with its suspense and surprise, hero, dangerous quest, mysterious antagonist... and ambiguous ending. We will see how learners can explore what the story leaves unsaid and mysterious, and suggest how they can engage creatively with the story by imagining different kinds of prequels, sequels and developments within the story.

Webinar with Robert Hill, teacher trainer and coordinator of the IATEFL Literature Special Interest Group

How can VR, Virtual Reality, be used in schools?

It's one thing to play video games or watch movies in another reality, but how can we make use of it as a learning tool with our students? In this session we will "dive" into another reality and explore the world of VR together, looking at how we could use it in the classroom and bring our textbooks to life.

Lernen ist nicht gleich lernen – Lerneraktivierung mit der Lernpyramide
